

STONEFORGED SETTERS HEALTH GUARANTEE

At Stoneforged Setters we want you and your new puppy to thrive at home and searching for birds in the fields and waters that you hunt. In order for you and your new puppy to have the best chance of finding this success throughout its development into a healthy adult Llewellyn Setter and hunting companion, we set out some guidelines to follow.

Health Standards to Follow

- All puppy vaccines should be spaced at least two weeks apart and only given a single vaccine at a time.
- Puppy should receive a total of (3-4) distemper/parvo vaccines including what was given by Stoneforged Setters. Initial vaccines will be given two to four weeks apart. And again as advised by your veterinarian.
- Puppy will receive its Rabies vaccine in the appropriate manner recommended by their vet.
- Puppy should be fed a diet that is at least 30% protein. We feed all of our dogs a 30% protein 25% fat diet of INUKSHUK dog food 30/25.
- Puppy should not be permitted to jump off of tailgates or training tables of any kind. Puppy will not be walked more than 20 minutes a day on hard surfaces (pavement, concrete, brick roads) until 5 months of age. Puppy will not be taken on hikes exceeding 15 minutes between 2-4 months of age. Hikes will not exceed 40 minutes between 4-6 months of age. Hikes will not exceed 1.5 hours between 6-12 months of age. Hikes should not exceed 2 hours between 12-24 months of age. Over 24 months of age there are no exercise restrictions. Keep in mind the importance of conditioning the dog for the labor that is demanded of it. Yard time does not need to be restricted from the time you bring your pup home, since the pup can choose to rest whenever it needs to.
- Veterinary care must be current: vaccines, heartworm prevention and wellness exams.
- Puppy must live indoors with family.
- Male puppies must be a minimum of 24 months old when neutering and females must have at least one heat cycle and be spayed no sooner than 3 months from the conclusion of its last heat cycle.
- If this puppy becomes visibly defective due to a congenital defect you, the owner, must continue to provide for this puppy as a loved family member in order to receive another puppy from Stoneforged Setters for us to honor this health guarantee contract. Stoneforged Setters is a small breeder breeding quality over quantity and it may take up to two years or more to honor the replacement pup from the time the defect is discovered. Owners are responsible for picking up their replacement pup at Stoneforged Setters in person.

In signing this contract below, you acknowledge and accept the terms of Stoneforged Setter's health guarantee and will do your best as this puppy's new owner to follow these guidelines.
